The C., M. & St. P. Railroad's Copper Country Line.

A Dispatch From the East

Says the Company is Contemplating Making the Extension-Evangelistic Services a Success.

A New York dispatch in the Evening Visconsin states that the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad is said to be planning to build to the copper country from a junction point of the line to Ontoungon. It also states that while the St. Paul has made preliminary surveys from Champion to Ishpeming, nothing has been determined as to building that piece of road. Extensions in that section will depend on the development of the mining industry the coming season. The present condition of the iron industry and iron ore carrying trade will not warrant such extensions at pres

This is the first intimation from the east of the contemplation of the C., M. & St. Paul of extending to the copper country and it may be considered the more important as the first orders for such an expenditure would necessarily come from the board of directors of the St. Paul in New York. FURS AND LACES.

Houghton visitor yesterday.

Little Cape Collars of Sable, Mink and Other Furs.

Sable and lace are the very keynote of fashionable trimming at present. Never were they so universally worn, apart and in combination. Of course all the sable is not genuine, for every woman who dresses fashionably cannot afford to buy so costly a fur, but manufacturers are very clever at making good imitations and as long as the effect is satisfactory it is enough for many persons.

Little fur capes are it vogue which are more like large collars than like capes. Sable, mink, marten and chinchilla compose them, and they are often lined with other fur—ermine, for example—and are trimmed all around with little tails. Point de venise, alencon, bruges and Stenographers of Latin Phrases.

Stenography played an important part at the ecumenical council of 1870. Pius IX, needing skillful stenographers. who should be discreet, asked a priest of Turin to select them among 24 semiparists of all pations. They were made to swear solemnly that they would not reveal a phrase of the deliberations, A few days before the opening of the coun-cil, the pope summoned the 24 stenographers in order to be perfectly sure that they understood the Latin pronunciation of various countries. He asked:

"How would you stenograph the following phrase, pronounced by an English ecclesiastic, 'Erma varrumque

The unanimous reply was "Arma virumque cano." Several of these stenog raphers have attained high positions in the church.-Journal des Debates.

No Ghost of Color.

"The other night at the dinner table," said Mr. Bildad, "little Obadiab surprised us all by asking why it was that with all the colored people dying no one ever saw a black ghost. It was a most novel question, and it threw the other children into a state of feverish excitement. After they had tried to solve it, but without success, they appealed to me, and in my most impress ive tone I replied that it was for the same reason that with all the white people dying no one ever saw a white ghost."—Elmira Gazette.

Just Like a Man For All the World. The mighty feminine mind is nowhere more resplendent than in the elabora tion of cooking recipes. "Bake a duck 40 minutes." says the lady cooking teacher. If the clumsy masculine intel-lect were preparing the recipe, and onbt-edly it would say bake 40 minutes in an oven heated to a given temperature. The lady teacher, however, with sub-lime faith in the intuitional faculty of the cook, says merely bake so long whether the oven be redhot or nearly cold.—Amsterdam (N. Y.) Democrat.

Swearing is the most natural expedient, but as this is considerably worse than crying the safest plan perhaps is to make frequent use of the expressions "Dear me!" and "Goodness gracious!" which are perfeetly harmless.

There are, as every one must know, times when even the strongest men are overcome by their feelings, and a terribly heart rending sight it is to see a big frame convulsed with sobs and a proud manly face stained with tears. As a rule, however, it is neither pain nor grief which will make a man cry. Soldiers, who will bear excruciating injuries without a moan, have been known to break down when the lights are lowered and some very thrilling scene is portrayed on the Adelphi boards. Orators and singers are both subject in an extraordinary degree to the sway of emotion. Tears are no uncommon sight in a pulpit.
